

City gets extra money

GRANITE CITY — An 8-cent-a-pack increase in state cigarette tax will bring a small windfall to city coffers.

The tax, which went into effect last Sunday, is estimated by the Illinois Department of Revenue to bring in an additional $16,000 a year to Granite City.

The actual cigarette tax revenues all go to the state, primarily to fund education. But because of a change in the way the tax is calculated, municipalities with their own tax will also benefit.

ALL CITIES are entitled to a 1 percent sales tax from the state. But home rule cities may impose an additional tax. Granite City has a 3/4 percent sales tax.

Formerly the federal, state and local taxes were figured on the price of cigarettes alone. Now, they are taxing the tax.

In effect, the 16-cent federal tax and 20-cent state tax are added to the price of the cigarette before the 5 percent state tax, 1 percent local tax and 3/4 percent home rule tax are figured.

SINCE THE LOCAL and home rule tax percentages are figured on a larger number, the city will receive more money.

Statewide, an estimated $2.5 million in added sales tax yield will be returned to downstate municipalities because of the broadening of the tax base, with an estimated $16 million going to the state.

The higher cigarette tax itself is estimated to bring in $80 million to possibly $110 million more a year.

Cost-conscious smokers say they hope Congress will allow an 8-cent-a-pack reduction in the federal tax. The measure potentially was to become effective this fall, but the date was extended to permit more time to study the impact on the federal budget.

SCRAPING AND STRIPPING of ceilings and walls in an office building owned by and adjacent to the First Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, is done last week by Doris Butts, a member of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society. No longer in use by the congregation, the converted residence will be used by the DNRS as its permanent headquarters. The DNRS is restoring the structure in an effort to preserve the architectural heritage of the downtown residential district.

Tapped for tap-on water fees

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Those who still owe tap-on fees to the Arlington Heights Water District are being contacted by the district's attorney, it was related during a Water District Board of Commissioners meeting Thursday.

The letters are in "friendly" terms, said Water District President Jerry Lilley.

"I feel this should be our only soft, diplomatic effort. We've done everything we can. We've notified everyone," he said.

THIRTEEN HOMEOWNERS in the subdivision owe a tap-on fee balance of $750. An initial $50 deposit was paid when tap-on contracts were signed.

Commissioners noted those who owe money had signed a contract.

"I'm not sure of the legal ramifications," Lilley said. "We'll leave that up to our attorney."

Also owing a tap-on fee balance are the owners of Fairway Estates apartments. They paid an initial $600 deposit but still owe $17,400. The commissioners have voted to allow the balance to be paid in installments, but no payments have been received.

"THEIR ATTORNEY told (water district consulting engineer Dennis)

"I feel this should be our only soft, diplomatic effort."

Denby money is set aside in an account. We'll get our money. It's promised. It's just been delayed," Lilley said.

Another apartment complex, Arlington Apartments, has been paying the water district in installments and still owes a little more than $10,000, it was related.

In addition to the owed tap-on fees, the water district needs eight easements from property owners in the area, including Fairway Estates apartments.

The recent dedication of Kelly Drive as a public road was noted. Commissioners indicated some easements may not be needed since Nameoki Township took over the road last month.

THE TAP-ON FEES must be collected, all easements obtained, and plans for the water system completed before the water district may advertise for construction bids, Denby told the commissioners in a letter read Thursday.

He reported the plans should be completed next month. Denby also reported the Farmers Home Administration, which is lending money for the water system, will lend the money at a lower rate should interest rates drop before the loan is closed. A loan rate of 9 3/8 percent initially was approved by the FmHA.

Sue town board, resident advised

GRANITE CITY — A suggestion to seek legal action against the Town Board was given to a senior citizen by a board member Tuesday night.

John Petish Sr., a member of the Granite City Council of Seniors, brought up a complaint about Township Supervisor Nellie Hagnauer.

Petish said Hagnauer is required to attend the township meetings by the Illinois Revised Statutes.

HE QUOTED a section of the law saying, "In each town the board of trustees shall consist of the supervisor and four other members elected at large from the town, and the supervisor shall be chairman of such board."

Petish further asked that Mayor Von Dee Cruise not continue to chair the meetings, but give the "gavel" to the senior trustee.

Cruise did not comply.

"WE WENT THROUGH this some time ago — it's ridiculous," Trustee Paul Fisk said. "If he (Petish) doesn't care for the way the township is run, let him get an attorney — at his own expense — and bring legal action against this Town Board."

Woody Moad, trustee, disagreed with Fisk.

"I agree with Mr. Petish," he said. "The township government is for the people and the people should have a say in how it is run. The supervisor should chair this meeting."

TRUSTEE Michael Modrusic requested that Petish submit copies of the referred-to statute to the trustees and to the committee for senior citizens.

"Then we can find out if the situation is being handled correctly. Otherwise, we'll have to take some action," Modrusic said.

There's no place called home

'For people in the community who are homeless, I think there is a need that has to be met.'

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

Some people see them; some people don't. Venice and Granite City police officials don't see many of them. Neither do Nameoki and Granite City Township general assistance officials.

But United Way, Salvation Army and Protestant Welfare officials say they're here and there is a problem with them in the Quad-City Area.

Sunday focus

THEY ARE THE HOMELESS, either local residents who have lost their homes due to unemployment or family disputes, or transients who are passing through looking for work, a clean, warm place to stay and a nourishing meal.

"It goes in cycles. We've had a dramatic increase of people living in vans — half transient and half local" during the last three months, said George Cook of the Tri-Cities Area United Way in Granite City.

Some are families and some are individuals, Cook said. Some are merely taking advantage of the good will offered to them, while others sincerely need help.

"There is a percentage trying to find the easy way out," Cook said. "Some are a parade of bad judgments. They will, if you have work for them, work."

DELORES GAINES of Protestant Welfare agrees there are homeless and finding a place for them to stay is a problem.

"I don't have the money or apartments ready to help them," she said of her agency. "I call around to United Way to find a place."

So where can the homeless in the Granite City area go?

"If they're local, they can usually find a relative or a cooperative landlord," Cook said. "A landlord may cooperate with a particular agency without a lot of money crossing hands."

BUT THERE IS no long-term housing, such as shelters, available from local agencies.

"Being so close to St. Louis, what happens more than likely is they migrate across the river where they're set up to handle this sort of thing," said Capt. Steve Kiger of the Granite City Salvation Army.

Public Aid funding has been allocated to the Salvation Army to provide one to three nights lodging at a local motel and food at a local restaurant, Kiger said. This program will allow the Salvation Army to build statistics on the number of homeless in the Granite City area, he said.

In addition, the Salvation Army does have access to other facilities in Alton, East St. Louis and St.

Louis. Those facilities offer 30 to 60 days lodging, he said.

A PROGRAM administered by the Madison County Urban League helps local residents on the verge of eviction, said Janet Quarton, Tri-Cities Area United Way executive director.

Someone faced with eviction may receive rental assistance, a deposit on a more affordable apartment, or an agreement with the landlord not to begin eviction proceedings for 60 days, she said.

"I like the program where we keep people where they are before they're homeless," Quarton said. "I don't want the Tri-Cities area to become an open center for transients to stop off. If we have to, we will provide a night's lodging and then move them out. It sounds hard, but they are transient, so they're used to moving."

"FOR PEOPLE in the community who are homeless, I think there is a need that has to be met," she added.

But while Quarton, Cook, Gaines and Kiger are aware of a problem, other officials have little contact with the homeless.

"We get very few, if any," said Granite City Patrol Capt. Glenn Wright. "A few years ago we had them (homeless people). I don't know if the services got better or if they went to the Sunbelt."

Venice Police Chief Farris Smith also said he sees very few homeless people in his city.

THE SAME HOLDS TRUE for Pauline Briggs, who administers general assistance in Nameoki Township.

"I've only had one (homeless person) in the last six years," she said.

Bernie Hagnauer, who administers general assistance in Granite City Township, sees homeless people only "once in a while. They're mostly transients. We usually handle only residents."

"You cannot find local people that will say you've got homeless people because it doesn't make them look good," said the Rev. Larry Rice, founder of the New Life Evangelistic Center shelters in St. Louis and East St. Louis.

"THE PROBLEMS are not being taken care of in Madison County," he said, noting that New Life receives people from the Granite City area "all the time. In Madison County, you're considered a non-human being if you don't have an address."

A shelter opened in a church basement in Alton last year served 200 homeless people, Rev. Rice said. That shelter has since closed because neighbors complained. Many of the transient homeless ride freight trains into the Granite City area, a major transport hub.

About half the persons coming from Granite City to its shelters are

The Japanese mob

WASHINGTON — Immigration inspectors have been told to keep watch for Japanese mobsters entering the United States. Simply being a member of one of the suspected Japanese underworld gangs isn't enough to bar entry, but those who lie about possible criminal records can be prosecuted for document fraud and deported. The warning from the Immigration Service's central intelligence office in Washington notes that "organized crime is not the primary jurisdiction of the officers of this service." But it points out that employees at ports of entry are "most likely to encounter an organized crime member applying for admission," and their "alert detection can sometimes preclude these individuals from entering the United States."

Our associate Donald Goldberg obtained a copy of the Immigration Service's "special assessment" on Japanese criminal gangs. It makes fascinating reading. The Japanese mob is known as "Yakuza," and Japanese authorities estimate there are more than 2,000 component gangs with a total membership of 100,000.

Yakuza members trace their roots to Banzai Chobei, a Japanese Robin Hood of the 17th century, the document discloses. "Chobei recruited his 'soldiers' from among social outcasts like himself, and many wore tattoos marking them as criminals." Originally, the gangs were called "Machi-Yakko," and members developed the interesting custom of cutting off a fingertip to offer an apology to the leader if they failed an assignment. The gangsters' favorite non-violent pastime was a blackjack-like card game. And that's where the modern name came from. States the Immigration Service document.

"If a player drew his cards an eight, nine and three, which can be pronounced in Japanese as Ya Ku Za, he had a worthless hand; the Yakuza or today call themselves 'worthless' persons, social outcasts. The Japanese police refer to them as 'Boryokudan' or 'violent ones'."

Jack Anderson

Yakuza members first arrived on U.S. soil in Hawaii during the 1960s; they now number about 100. Their targets are Japanese-American travel agencies, bus companies, hotels and souvenir shops that cater to tourists from Japan in Honolulu, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The name of the Yakuza game is extortion.

The U.S. branches also serve a valuable purpose as outlets for money-laundering and investments using the estimated $5 billion the Yakuza in Japan rakes in each year. Like the Mafia, the Yakuza is engaged in prostitution, drug smuggling, arms traffic and pornography, as well as in such legitimate businesses as real estate, bars, nightclubs, travel agencies and export-import firms.

FUTURE FILE: By the end of the century, according to our economic sources, the Information Revolution will transform the way most of us live. Here are some of their forecasts:

— Information technology will be the world's biggest manufacturing industry by 1990.

— By 1995, only 22 million Americans will be employed in the manufacturing sector, and the same number will be working in service industries. Employment in the basic smokstack industries will shrink from the current 20 percent of the labor force to a mere 8 percent.

— In four years, one-half of all American households will have some kind of a computer system. There are now a little more than 6 million computers in the country.

From the United Way.

A big 'thank you'

In recent years, the Tri-Cities area has typified many of the ills of what has been called the "Rust Belt" by some — increasing unemployment, closing of businesses, population decline.

But, for those observers of the scene who would like to neatly tuck away communities such as ours — built proudly around their basic industries and their traditions of several generations of people who have called no place other than the Tri-Cities area their home — I suggest that any obituaries are premature.

How do I know? In the past few months, I have had the distinct honor of seeing the vitality of our community at work in my role as chairman of the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign.

And, even for a native of Granite City such as myself, the tremendous effort put forth causes me to pause and consider how great the people of this area are.

BEN JOHANNPETER JR. is manager of the transition team of Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corporation. He served as general chairman of the just-completed 1985 fund campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Consider — A goal of $660,000 was set. At the time, it seemed optimistic and, perhaps, even unrealistic. I'm sure that the pundits who write and talk disparagingly of the ability of our citizens — an ability to meet challenges and overcome adversity — might even have found the goal comical.

But look who's laughing now — it's the thousands of men and women, boys and girls, disabled, handicapped, senior citizens and anyone who benefits from the work done by the 15 agencies of the Tri-Cities Area United Way. Not only was the goal met, it was exceeded. This week, we surpassed the $700,000 mark.

That means that, thanks to the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and the generosity of our community, the majority of the agencies were able to be funded at the figures they requested.

Also, the United Way is able to continue its innovative Venture Grant Program to meet other needs of the community.

I invite all the citizens of the Tri-Cities area who either volunteered or who made contributions to the United Way campaign to allow themselves the luxury of a brief moment of self-congratulation. You've earned it.

We still have work to do, but I am confident that the spirit you have exemplified will enable us to meet other challenges with equally gratifying results.

Our theme for this campaign was "A Community That Cares." Now, we have shown that it is more than a theme — it is a way of life in the Tri-Cities area that will provide the impetus to better things in the future.

Passion of collectors doesn't fade with time

Pads and phases in every generation come and go but collectors' passion to search and pursue their hobby by never ceases.

Collections sometimes start after an inexpensive purchase at a flea market or yard sale, or possibly a gift.

Theories on collecting inevitably begin with, "After I had one collectible it was easy to find a second one and then I had the fever. Thereafter, I noticed similar items everywhere — then I became a collector."

The return of country-style decorating and antiques has had a strong influence on today's exur-

sions to acquire another collectible. However, this interest is not new. Generations ago, people gathered coins, stamps, toys and books. And of course, there have always been those who could afford and desired to collect expensive paintings by well-known artists.

The only difference between yesterday and today is there are many more exhibits and displays, craft shows and business places that carry old-fashioned memorabilia available to the "searcher."

A common technique many people utilize as the size of their collection grows — and the scope of their experience broadens — is to narrow the field of interest.

Talking with one collector, I was told by her it is not the cost or use of such messages enter our living rooms unbidden and are subject to being halted.

But the same can't be said of print media. Newspapers and magazines are in the home because those mediums are purchased. The public knows what editorial and advertising to expect and exercises its right to buy those publications.

In the spirit of Big Brother, the AMA would remove that right and pass it off as being for our own good; a teaspoon of sugar with a cup of castor oil.

But eroding the First Amendment right to present a message is not good, no matter how nobly espoused of the anti-cigarette movement are allowed to present their own message.

A possible scenario: Cigarette advertising banned from print by Congress in 1986 due to AMA pressure; alcohol advertising banned from print by Congress in 1988; firearm advertising banned from print by Congress in 1990; advertising for cars that can exceed the 55 mph speed limit banned by Congress in 1992; advertising of products containing caffeine banned by Congress in 1994; and so on.

Let one domino fall and others in line are jeopardized. In this case, a simple right to advertise a product is endangered. Deny this right and it becomes easier to deny the rights of the next fellow.

In addition to eroding another First Amendment right, the proposed banning of cigarette advertising is important for another reason. Advertising supports the periodicals you read.

her, but rather the thrill of searching for still another and finding it in a surprising place.

After locating an intriguing item, the avid collector many times will visit the library and launch a detailed research effort to secure every bit of information available on the collectible. The hobbyist wants to know where it was made, the history it makes it interesting, and information on the creator or artist.

Some collectors turn their fascination with a collection into a thriving business by reproducing the items. This opens the door to a search for authentic materials, tools and designs to master the achievements of the old craftsmen.

Many women are now engaged in handcrafts and painting to satisfy their creative nature, as well as continuing to collect pillows, dolls, stuffed animals, wreaths, baskets and wood figures. In this branch of interest, some utilize handmade motifs to decorate, nearly every room in the house.

Primitive-style shelves provide the perfect place to exhibit plates, miniature cups and saucers, salt and pepper sets, jugs, crocks and baskets, to name but a few.

For a number of collectors, it is important to have a glass-enclosed cabinet to show off their favorite collection, such as thimbles, intricate glass-blown articles or tiny, fragile artifacts.

The list is endless, depending on the fancy of the collector. With the holiday season approaching, the person who "has everything" may receive a gift that stimulates his or her interest in a collectible item.

In this way, still another collector may be created and more. It's out on the trail, a never-ending pattern of search, purchase and display.

It's Pravda. The effect of a ban on cigarette advertising would hurt cigarette companies, certainly, and it would hurt newspapers and magazines and, in the end, it could hurt you, too.

The AMA ought to find another way to reach its goal of a smokeless society. Stepping on the Constitution isn't the way to do it.

The AMA's proposal is just bad medicine.

AMA's call to ban cigarette advertising just bad medicine

Editorial

In the early 1970s, cigarette advertising disappeared from radio and television. As a result, more than $200 million annually spent on cigarette commercials was lost to those mediums.

With money in their pockets, tobacco companies sharply focused on print media.

The print media, of course, was glad to have the revenue. As so aptly pointed out by a prominent national advertising leader in 1969:

"Never in history has there existed a substantial free press that has not been supported by advertising."

Now comes the American Medical Association. This week they will consider going to Congress to halt cigarette advertising in print media. The intent is to facilitate the emergence of a "smoke-free society" by the year 2000.

In fact, what they want to do is give the public a lobotomy: Let's all us robots do what the good doctors would force us to do 'cause we robots can't think for ourselves.

Whether you are for or against smoking should be inconsequential (I don't smoke and never have). What is at issue here is cigarette advertisers' First Amendment right to display their products in print.

Perhaps the ban on cigarette commercials can be excused if one works hard enough. A rationale might be that such messages enter our living rooms unbidden and are subject to being halted.

But the same can't be said of print media. Newspapers and magazines are in the home because those mediums are purchased. The public knows what editorial and advertising to expect and exercises its right to buy those publications.

In the spirit of Big Brother, the AMA would remove that right and pass it off as being for our own good; a teaspoon of sugar with a cup of castor oil.

But eroding the First Amendment right to present a message is not good, no matter how nobly espoused of the anti-cigarette movement are allowed to present their own message.

A possible scenario: Cigarette advertising banned from print by Congress in 1986 due to AMA pressure; alcohol advertising banned from print by Congress in 1988; firearm advertising banned from print by Congress in 1990; advertising for cars that can exceed the 55 mph speed limit banned by Congress in 1992; advertising of products containing caffeine banned by Congress in 1994; and so on.

Let one domino fall and others in line are jeopardized. In this case, a simple right to advertise a product is endangered. Deny this right and it becomes easier to deny the rights of the next fellow.

In addition to eroding another First Amendment right, the proposed banning of cigarette advertising is important for another reason. Advertising supports the periodicals you read.

Unlike other products, the quarter the public puts down to buy a newspaper doesn't cover the cost. In fact, one estimate is that subscriptions cover only about 30 percent of the cost of a newspaper. Advertising pays for the rest.

What if that advertising disappeared? One need only look to neighboring countries where advertising isn't in the news pages.

Governments runs those publications. They distribute news like placebos.

It's Pravda. The effect of a ban on cigarette advertising would hurt cigarette companies, certainly, and it would hurt newspapers and magazines and, in the end, it could hurt you, too.

The AMA ought to find another way to reach its goal of a smokeless society. Stepping on the Constitution isn't the way to do it.

The AMA's proposal is just bad medicine.

Things were hopping in the newsroom last week

News, like fish, should be served fresh.

But some persons have other ideas, as I experienced just the other day when a member of the Cultural Organization for Lingers (COL) came into the office wearing dark grey robes and holding a gnarly oak staff.

"I represent COLD," he said in a somber voice. "I want you to run this picture and story in your paper about our Halloween activities." "It's December the third," I explained. "Halloween was more than a month ago."

"Don't mince words with me," he said with a glint of fire in his eyes. "We would have run your release if you would have gotten it to us, say, within two weeks after the event. But now it's too old."

"You dare challenge my judgment as club publicity chairman?" he said, tightly gripping the staff.

"How? How can you like to be a frog?" "You don't understand. It's getting close to Christmas. Our paper's filled with Christmas-related stories, like what's going on with the Salvation Army Tree of Lights, Operation Food Search ... that sort of thing. A picture of people dancing around a fire on Halloween night, well, it just wouldn't fit in."

"Yes, I think a frog is just the thing."

"Listen, if your club gets us a story about what it's doing to celebrate Christmas, I'll personally ..."

"We don't celebrate Christmas. We celebrate Halloween. That's our day."

"I'm very sorry."

He waved his hand over me and stormed from the office. I meant to say goodbye, but it came out "rrrrrr-bit."

Poinsettias
$6.50

The poinsettia has a unique history. It is believed that one Christmas Eve long ago, a poor little Mexican girl gathered a bouquet of weeds on her way to church, because she had no other gift for the Christ Child. Upon placing this humble gift at the infant's feet, a miracle occurred — the weeds burst into bloom. After that night they were called "Flores de Noche Buena" — Flowers of the Holy Night.

During the 19th Century, Joel Robert Poinsett, a botanist and U.S. Ambassador to Mexico, took home several of the plants where he placed them in his greenhouse and gave them to friends. Since then they have been called Poinsettias.

FREE DELIVERY

Nuclear fuel loading delayed at plant

Illinois Power Co. (IP) says nuclear fuel loading at its Clinton power plant will be delayed at least two months. This means a 9 percent rate hike for its customers will also be delayed.

The last Illinois Commerce Commission rate order for the utility in August provided a 9 percent overall increase would go into effect when fuel-loading occurred. The company then estimated it would be in early January.

IP last week said the fuel-loading would be delayed until sometime between late February and late March, citing a "delay in completing systems for testing."

CONSTRUCTION of the huge plant is virtually complete, however, and nuclear fuel rods were delivered this fall. The nuclear-powered plant will generate electricity for a substantial area of the state.

The 9 percent overall hike tied to fuel loading would increase the power tab for "typical" residential customers, using 1,100 kilowatt hours in summer months and 700 kilowatt hours in winter months, from about $710 a year to about $754 a year, according to the ICC.

The August ICC order also provided for a second 9 percent rate hike when a second "milestone" was reached — certification by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission that Clinton was at "full power."

Because of the delay in loading, that milestone and rate hike will also be delayed, according to IP spokeswoman Robin Hamel.

THE PLANT MUST successfully complete a series of tests after fuel loading before the NRC will certify

"full power status."

The utility previously anticipated full-power status by next July. Now the company is saying this will not occur until at least sometime in the third quarter of next year, July-September 1986.

IP last week substantially revised upward its official total cost estimate for Clinton. In a prior official estimate in 1984, IP put its own costs at about $2.7 billion for the plant. Rural electric cooperatives with a 15 percent interest in Clinton have reached an agreement with IP to limit their total participation in the cost to $450 million.

IP's statement revised the company's share of the total cost for the plant to between $3.25 billion and $3.35 billion, a 15 to 19 percent increase over last year's official estimate.

INCLUDING THE CO-OPS' $450 million, the estimated total cost of the plant is now between $3.7 billion and $3.8 billion, almost nine times the original estimate back in 1974.

That figure also does not include ultimate financing costs the rural co-op members will have to absorb to pay for their interest in the plant. Unhappy co-op members face even higher rate hikes because of Clinton than IP customers.

IP officials informally estimated last summer the plant would cost at least $1.35 billion more than the previous estimate of a $2.7 billion share.

Under another ICC order, also adopted in August, additional costs over the $2.7 billion figure must be absorbed by the utility's stockholders and cannot be passed on to ratepayers.

A REMINDER FROM THE LAW TODAY

In a recent article, the head of the civil division of the United States Department of Justice is quoted as saying that, in order to keep insurance costs under control, a cap should be put on the amount of money which a tort victim may be awarded for such things as pain and suffering and the mental distress which often accompanies severe and debilitating physical injury. This attitude has become widespread, and is deeply disturbing. What big business and many of the politicians have failed to recognize is the simple reality that if products were made safe, workers were provided with proper equipment, and more attention was paid to the well-being of the public than to the profit margin, the cost of litigation and the cost of insurance would immediately go down. Not surprisingly, the same groups whose "reforms" would limit your right to fully recover for wrongs committed against you have said nothing about meeting their own responsibility to help prevent injuries from happening in the first place. Remember, the bottom line is: who's looking out for your interests?

We will be discussing this and other topics on Tuesday night's program.

Insurance help offered

Illinois businesses and local governments now have some recourse for the commercial liability insurance problems that have been plaguing them for several months.

The Illinois Insurance Assistance Program, a coalition of the Illinois property and casualty insurance industry under auspices of the Illinois Department of Insurance, became operational Dec. 2.

"This effort dovetails with the governor's commitment to improving the business climate in Illinois, and answers one of the concerns brought up at the governor's Small Business Conference," said Insurance Director John W. E. Washburn. "The assistance program will work with the governor's small business advisory program."

Washburn praised the property and casualty industry for its "quick response to growing unrest in the insurance market."

"Not only am I pleased to be part of an administration that takes the plight of its business community so seriously, I am especially gratified by the way the industry has pulled together in a relatively short time to iron out the framework and procedures necessary to get this program off the ground," Washburn said.

Effective immediately, any Illinois consumer who cannot obtain commercial liability insurance coverage through normal channels can apply to the assistance program by contacting any insurance producer licensed to write property and casualty business in the state.

Details of the program will be sent to 35,000 such producers. Duty executed applications may be sent to the Illinois Insurance Assistance Program, P.O. Box 803988, Chicago, Ill. 60680.

Member insurance companies include Allstate Insurance Co., CIGNA Insurance Group, CNA Insurance, Kemper Insurance Co. and State Farm Insurance Co.

The insurance director said, "We hope to provide relief to the many Illinois businesses and government bodies that cannot find commercial liability insurance."

Cable TV yule sales will help drive for eats

South-Western Cable TV Ltd. has announced a "holiday spirit sale" which will help provide a happier holiday season for the less fortunate.

The campaign, in cooperation with the Marine Corps Reserve and seven area agencies, offers a $15 discount on installation of cable service to anyone donating either a new toy worth $5 or writing a check for $5 to any of the cooperating agencies. The offer is good through Dec. 20. Agencies involved will be providing meals for the needy.

Sally Stiffelman of South-Western said over $190 and 16 toys were donated by area residents in the first five days of the campaign.

In addition to the installation discount, "Showtime," "The Movie Channel" and "The Disney Channel" are providing gifts for anyone who chooses to subscribe to those services as part of the campaign.

Bill Roughly, general manager for South-Western Cable, said the company is pleased to be able to help such causes. "We have traditionally helped the Toys-for-Tots campaign at this time of year. Adding the meals for the less fortunate is new and looks like it will be well received," he said.

"We are requesting that the donations be in the form of a check written to the agency, with us delivering the check."

Organizations involved in the campaign include:

Coordinated Youth Services — serving Granite City, Madison, Pontoon Beach, Mitchell and Venice.

Glen Ed Pantry — serving Edwardsville and Glen Carbon.

Ministries Unlimited Christmas Fund — serving Troy.

Protestant Welfare Association — serving the Quad-City area.

St. Stephen's Fund for the needy — serving Caseyville.

St. Vincent De Paul Society — serving Highland.

And Western Egyptian Economic Opportunity Council — serving Monroe County.

New York yule organ concert by Ebrecht

The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Department of Musical Instruments, in New York City on Dec. 10 will present a special Christmas concert by Ronald Ebrecht, performing on the museum's 1830 Appleton pipe organ.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ebrecht, 2829 E. 27th St., he graduated in 1971 from Granite City High School.

The 1830 organ has been called "absolutely elegant in both looks and expressivity" by the New York Times.

The concert is set for 7:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Equestrian Court. Ebrecht is an active organ and harpsichord recitalist who has appeared throughout Europe and the United States. La Croix de Toulouse credited him with "audacious and unconventional interpretations which bring an interior pleasure which is the joy to share in his expansive liveliness."

The New York Times reported of his 1982 Christmas appearance with the American Music/Theater Group at the Metropolitan Museum, "The concert was a delight, about as hope to attend this holiday season."

An Illinois native, Ebrecht is an alumnus of Yale University and the Schola Cantorum, Paris. He has studied organ with Robert Anderson, Gerre Hancock and Jean Guillou; harpsichord with Larry Palmer, Ralph Kirkpatrick and Huguleit Dreyfus.

He has served as organist of the American Cathedral, Paris, and Yale Divinity School. Recently, he began his sixth year as director of music and organist of St. Rose Church, Meriden, Conn.

For the Dec. 10 performance at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Ebrecht has chosen works which will display the diversity and character of the unusual Appleton organ, as well as the joy of the season.

The program: Prelude and Fugue in G Minor, Johannes Brahms. Two fugues, No. 1 and No. 6, from Six Fugues or Voluntaries of 1735, George Frideric Handel. Four Sonatas, Dominico Scarlatti.

Cantabile, Cesar Franck. Christmas carol preludes of America, Germany and France. And Prelude and Fugue in C Minor, Felix Mendelssohn.

'Coffee with principal' meeting set Wednesday

Michael Sikora, principal of Coolidge Junior High School, announces the next "Coffee with the principal" meeting will be Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Topic for the evening will be junior high registration and the junior high program of courses.

Parents of all Coolidge students are invited. A special invitation is also issued to parents of present sixth graders who will be attending the seventh grade at Coolidge next fall. There will be a presentation by the principal and counselor and an opportunity to ask questions.

Submit stories

All churches in the Quad-City area planning special Christmas services and programs are being encouraged to submit press releases to the Granite City Press-Record/Journal as soon as possible to insure publication of the activities before the holiday week.

Former GC man dies in jail

BELLEVILLE — A former Granite City man was found hanged Thursday in a Belleville City Jail cell.

Alan Dale Sims, 26, of Belleville was found hanging from the cell bars by his shirt at 12:55 a.m. Thursday, officials said.

He had been arrested at 10:30 p.m. Wednesday on a disorderly conduct complaint filed by a former girlfriend and on a resisting arrest charge, Belleville Police Chief Robert Hurst said. Both are misdemeanor charges.

There was only one other prisoner in the jail at the time, a woman who was being held in the women's hold-over section about 20 feet away from Mr. Sims' cell, Hurst said.

Jail personnel take varied precautions to prevent such deaths, Hurst said. Belts, shoes and wallets are taken from prisoners before admitting them to a cell, and inmates are checked every half hour, he said.

"If he had given any indication he was going to do this, we would have put him in the hold-over cell across from the sergeant's desk where we could watch him," Hurst said.

An autopsy is being performed, he said, with results expected next week. Other than that, there is no other investigation into the death, Hurst said.

"I've been here 21 years and we've had less than six (such deaths)," Hurst said. "The last one was in 1984."

Mr. Sims lived in Granite City all his life before moving to Belleville in October, officials said. He was employed as a billing clerk at AT&T in Belleville.

Mr. Sims' obituary appears elsewhere in this issue.

Remove Intoxicated Drivers candlelight vigil hosting

The Metro-East Chapter of RID (Remove Intoxicated Drivers) is sponsoring a memorial candlelight ceremony in memory of people who have been killed or injured by drunken drivers.

This is one of several events throughout the U.S. during this week, National Drunk and Drugged Driver Awareness Week, RID officials said.

The event is set for 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 9, at the Cottonwood Mall, Glen Carbon, where there will be a short service, reading of candle victims' names, lighting of candles and a walk around the mall. Participants are urged to bring a small candle in a container or holder to prevent dripping wax.

For additional information, interested persons may call Freida

Ballew of Granite City at 931-4679. She is vice-president of the local chapter.

Cottonwood Mall is on Highway 159. Participants will gather inside the mall near the entrance to Wal-Mart.

Hotline on state taxes

The Illinois Department of Revenue has installed a toll-free telephone line to aid Illinois residents who have questions about their state taxes.

The new number, 1-800-732-8866, may be called between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays to ask questions about the individual income tax, Circuit Breaker grants, sales and withholding taxes, or any other tax administered by the Department of Revenue.

Twenty-eight new phone lines have been added to handle calls on the toll-free number, according to J. Thomas Johnson, director of the department. In addition, 16 new representatives have been added to the Taxpayer Information Division, bringing the total available to answer phone inquiries to 28.

The toll-free number, along with the increased number of Taxpayer Information experts, is part of our overall effort to be as helpful as possible to Illinois taxpayers," Johnson said. "Any tax can be confusing at times, even one as simple and basic as the Illinois individual income tax, which is a flat 1 1/2 percent rate."

"We have been working to make our tax forms simpler and easier to understand. When taxpayers do have questions, we want to give them answers promptly."

Taxpayer Information representatives daily handle a variety of calls, from people requesting forms, asking about when to make estimated payments, requesting the definition of a "qualified pension," or simply inquiring about a refund.

Q: A friend recently told me the rules for withdrawal from an IRA have changed sometime this last year. Is this true and if so, how have they changed?
A: Your friend is right. Effective January 1, 1985, there were three major changes in the rules concerning withdrawal from an Individual Retirement Account. First, an owner must start taking withdrawals from his or her IRA no later than the 70 1/2 birthday. If withdrawals are not made by this date, the account holder will be penalized 50% of the amount that should have been taken. However, at age 70 1/2, an account owner is allowed to recalculate his or her life expectancy. This recalculation could result in a reducing of the amount an account holder would have to withdraw each year. This new rule will help insure that an account owner would not outlive his or her IRA. It is pleasing to note that apparently those who keep life-expectancy statistics feel most of us are going to live longer. Experts agree saving changes in life style and improved medical knowledge will help make longer, healthier lives for us all.

Madison students will view theater performance series

Madison students will have the opportunity to attend special theater performances and other planned events during this month and in January.

All Harris and Blair School pupils through the third grades will view The Nutcracker, a ballet set to Tchaikovsky's music and narrated by Hans Conreid, on Dec. 18.

The Mundy Student Theater will present a production at 1 p.m. Jan. 22 based on interviews and improvisations with young people, focused on such problems as peer pressure, drug and alcohol abuse and difficulties encountered in growing up.

All Madison High School students, grades nine through 12, will see this performance, entitled "What If I Want to Say No?"

Eighth grade students attending the Middle School will be writing poetry in preparation for a meeting with Peter Simpson, a poet, on Jan. 30.

Simpson will review poetry written by the students and elicit personal poems from them as well as class-wide group poems. The discussion will focus on how to read poetry with sensitivity and enjoyment.

During the evening, the eighth grade will host a "Parents and Friends Night" with Simpson, intended for poetry reading, sharing and enjoyment.

Middle School sixth grade pupils have been invited to a choral concert Jan. 16 at 10:30 a.m. The invitation was from Leonard Van Camp, director of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Concert Chorus.

The choir toured Europe for four weeks during the summer, presenting concerts in great halls and churches in Europe. Van Camp said singing for the Pope was the most exciting, especially when His Holiness personally greeted the choir members and posed with them for pictures. The sixth graders will not only hear the prize-winning choral group but will tour SIUE, led by student Ambassadors.

Quick shop robbed twice in one week

Robbers have struck Curly's Quick Shop twice within seven days. Although no suspect was apprehended in a Nov. 29 robbery, a suspect has been charged with a robbery on Dec. 3.

Madison County authorities received an alarm at 8:18 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 3, and went to the shop at 527 Maryville Road, learning two men had entered the store. They were 6 feet tall, in their teens or early 20s, wearing blue jeans and blue jean jackets, with flannel shirts over their faces.

One carried a long-barreled shotgun which he pointed at a woman employee. The unarmed man ordered her to give him money from the cash register, and she put the cash drawer on the counter.

The unarmed man picked up the drawer and the two robbers left the building. They apparently sped away in a car, its tires squealing. The employee saw no car, however.

The robbers left with less than $300 in cash and food stamps, authorities said.

While investigating the robbery, Madison County officers were told of a suspicious vehicle seen at the Party Shop, 5529 Maryville Road, prior to the robbery. A license number was obtained by a witness.

At 9:25 p.m., an off-duty county sergeant heard broadcast's relating to the suspicious vehicle and reported he had just seen the car on Alton Avenue in Madison.

Officers responded and chased the suspect vehicle, finally stopping the auto on Sken Street in Madison. The driver had juvenile passengers in the car, and officers believe they were not involved in the robbery.

The driver, Gerard Bulva, 21, of 1220 Iowa St., Madison, was not wearing a shirt, reports said. Officers allegedly then saw an uncased shotgun protruding from under a blanket behind the driver's seat.

Also found were food stamps, cash and a torn shirt.

Bulva was charged with armed robbery, probation violation and unlawful use of a weapon by a felon. He is being held in the Madison County jail in lieu of $85,000 bond.

On Nov. 29, a masked man armed with a shotgun robbed Curly's Quick Shop. The suspect was wearing a blue stocking mask and green army jacket, and is described as in his 20s, 6 feet tall, weighing 150 pounds.

The November haul took about $280. No one has been arrested in connection with that robbery.

FIREPLACE CAUSES BLAZE AND $4,500 DAMAGE TOTAL
A fire at 2219 Delmar Ave. Nov. 28 caused $3,000 damage to the home and $1,500 damage to the contents. Larry Hahne is the owner and occupant.

The blaze started when the fireplace overheated, firemen determined. The fire was confined to the living room.

ARRESTED TWICE FOR DUI
Charles V. Arbeiter, 57, of 2945 Fehling Road was arrested twice Dec. 3 for alleged driving under the influence of alcohol. In the first instance, he also was charged with driving south in a northbound lane of Nameoki Road. Freed on $102 bail at 1:45 a.m., he was seen in his pickup truck at 3:40 a.m. by the same officer, who made the second arrest. The motorist posted $302 bail.

FIRE DAMAGES APARTMENT
A fire Nov. 27 in the apartment of Kenneth Waller, 1151 Rhodes St., caused $1,400 damage to personal items. The blaze had originated in a dryer compartment in the basement of the building. The apartment is owned by Leo Pyles.

Candidate happy about endorsement

GRANITE CITY — Assistant Police Chief Robert Ash said he was elated with the Madison County Democratic Central Committee's decision to endorse his candidacy for Madison County sheriff last week.

"I was as worried as every other candidate," said Astorian. "I felt that if I'm going to run on the party ticket, I would want the support of my party."

"I still have to get out and work hard," he said. "The people are the ones that elect you."

Thursday's edition contained information on the endorsements voted by the county's Democratic committee at the county and statewide levels.

Among those who were endorsed were U.S. Senator Alan Dixon, State Comptroller Roland Burris, Aurelia Pucinski for secretary of state, State Senator Sam Vadala and State Representative Sam Wolf.

E. ST. LOUIS MAN HURT IN CRASH ON ROUTE 111

Patrick Smith, 20, of East St. Louis was injured Dec. 3 when his pickup truck left the roadway and hit a car parked on the shoulder of the road. He was traveling south on Route 111 about 3/4 mile north of Interstate 55.

The owner of the parked car, Norvil Pallen, 53, of Dittmer, Mo., was slightly injured in the accident. Smith was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis.

REVOLVER, SHOTGUN GONE

A 44 caliber magnum nickel-plated revolver worth $300, a $350 16-gauge semi-automatic shotgun in a case, a 13-inch color television worth $200 and 40 rounds of ammunition were taken in a burglary Nov. 30 at the home of Don King, 4045 Rode Ave. The intruder broke a door pane.

PROWLING CHARGE FILED

Dean L. Culver, 21, of 1510 Kirkpatrick Homes was charged with prowling when found by officers allegedly walking from an alley at the rear of the 1400 block of 1406 Niedringhaus Avenue at 2:50 a.m. Nov. 30.

BURGLAR TAKES SPEAKERS

Mark Schuman of 5025 Lewis St. reported two speakers valued at $800 were taken from his home Dec. 3. Entry to the house was gained by prying open a window, Madison County authorities said.

BURGLAR TAKES COMPUTER

Dean Guenther, 1323 Edwardsville Road, said Dec. 2 a burglar pried open a door of his apartment and took a home computer, a 12-inch TV set and miscellaneous cassette tapes.

Granite City man pleads guilty in battery case

James Stuart, 29, of 2510 Hodges Ave. must serve one year probation, make restitution of an undetermined amount and pay $35 in court costs following his guilty plea Oct. 7 to a reduced charge of battery. Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman presided over the sentencing.

Stuart was charged March 27 with aggravated battery after an investigation by Madison police into a March 17 incident.

MAN ALLEGES BATTERY

Jimmy R. Greene, 33, of 1629 Fifth St., Madison, was arrested Dec. 2 for battery. James R. Ponder, 1401 Kirkpatrick Homes, alleged Greene struck him several times in the face with his fists at a Nameoki Road residence.

DRIVER CHARGED WITH DUI, AUTO HITS ROAD DIVIDER

Diekie J. Rehstock, 29, of 2827 North St., was arrested Dec. 1 after he was hurt in an auto accident on Illinois Route 3 about 3/4 mile south of Niedringhaus Avenue. He said he was driving north when his vehicle struck a concrete road divider twice and then stopped against the divider.

Rehstock was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, transporting beer and driving with a suspended license. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for his injuries.

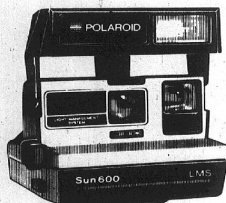

ALCOHOL-RELATED CHARGE

Lonnie Longin, 23, Belleville, was arrested at Route 203 and Harrison Street, Madison, at 5 a.m. Dec. 2 and charged with transportation of alcohol.

RID to sponsor video contest

The Metro-East Chapter of RID (Remove Intoxicated Drivers) is sponsoring a video contest for students in junior high, high school and college. The topic is "The Consequences of Drunk Driving on the Family."

Each entry must be on a VHS cassette tape. Each skit should be between 30 seconds and five minutes in length, and more than one skit may be entered on each tape.

Contestants should show the topic and names of people in the skit, along with the school name and grade, at the beginning of each entry. If it is being done for a particular course, the course and teacher's name should be included.

The contest ends March 17, 1986. Judging will be done during the first week in April. Awards will be presented publicly April 13.

The first-place award is $150, second place $100 and third place $50. There also will be five honorable mention prizes. Entries become the property of RID-Metro East.

Rice sees

persons originally from Granite City, Rice estimated.

"THEY CAN'T FIND long-term housing so their children are taken away from them and put in foster care," he said.

Solutions are coming no easier in the Granite City area than they are to other cities.

Rev. Rice would like to find another Madison County church which would open its basement to the homeless. Rice would provide coats, blankets and train volunteers, he said.

"I'm waiting for a church to come forward and do this. Church should be more sanctuary than a place to gather together for a few hours on Sunday," he said.

THE HOMELESS ISSUE also is being studied by the Executive Roundtable, which is made up of social services directors in Madison County.

The group is looking for someone to research the problem of the homeless, said Donna Lowry, Roundtable president.

"There are a number of groups of people with no long-term housing," she said. "Mentally retarded people are being mainstreamed into the public. Some people don't have finances or the skill to manage money."

IF RESEARCH proves there is a problem with homeless people in Madison County, "There would be facilitators to make something happen, either through our agencies or through the state," Lowry said.

But while the problem is being studied here, Rev. Rice continues to welcome people from this area into his shelter — people like a Madison County man who slept in a park and used leaves as cover and protection from the cold.

Exhibit at Wildey

The Wildey Arts Center's Senior Citizen Liaison Committee announces the December 1985 exhibit, "Tattooing, the Art of Lace-making at Home." The exhibit will run through Dec. 31 in the gallery space at the Arts Center in Edwardsville.

Tattooing is defined by the American Heritage Dictionary as "Handmade lace fashioned by looping and knotting a single strand of heavy-duty thread on a small hand shuttle."

Tattooing is much like crocheting (a similar type of thread is used) but the tatter wraps the thread around the fingers of one hand while she weaves the shuttle — already wound with a supply of thread — in and out of the loops with her other hand.

Tattooing is an art that many people will remember their mothers or grandmothers practicing. But very few people perform the art today.

The lace that is made by tattooing can be every width and design from a small looped edge that will be attached to a pillowcase, to a strip of lace two or three inches wide that can be applied to a petticoat, a handkerchief or a dress.

Other objects made by tattooing are individual decorative pieces. These include butterflies, bells, snowflakes, Christmas trees and snowflakes that can be used as holiday decorations, and small, delicately woven crosses.

Examples of tattooing that will be displayed in the show include many of the smaller pieces, along with pillowcases, sheets, handkerchiefs, a baby's coverlet, a baby dress, decorative hand towels and other items.

Bea Mercer, 87, of Bunker Hill has many samples of her work in the exhibit. Mercer, a retired grade school teacher, has been tattooing since she was 10 years old. One day in 1959 she had a choice of either stemming gooseberries or learning to tat.

"I hated snubbing (stemming) gooseberries," she said. She has been tattooing ever since. The small religious crosses that she makes out of many different colors of thread have been given as gifts to people all over the world, she said.

On Sunday, Dec. 8, there will be an open house at the Wildey Arts Center's Showcase of Area Artists exhibit. Goebel, Franke and Trecker will be on hand throughout the afternoon to demonstrate the art of tattooing and talk with visitors about examples of their work.

Illinois Authors Guide highlights state's writers

GRANITE CITY — Readers and students of literature may be interested in a new guide to Illinois literature at the Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave.

"A Reader's Guide to Illinois Literature" was recently published by the Read Illinois program through the Illinois State Library in the Secretary of State's Office, and has been distributed to local public, academic and school libraries throughout Illinois.

Secretary of State and State Librarian Jim Edgar hailed the publication as "a major contribution to the study and enjoyment of Illinois literature. This comprehensive guide will serve as the basis from which the study of Illinois literature will grow," he said.

The book includes five essays written by Illinois scholars: "Fiction to 1915," "Fiction since 1915," "Nonfiction," "Women's Literature" and "Poetry."

Bibliographies accompany the essays. In addition, the book includes supplemental bibliographies of black authors, Hispanic authors, other ethnic group authors and children's authors.

"A Reader's Guide to Illinois Literature" is in the reference section of the Granite City Public Library and may be used in the library anytime during business hours. The main library is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Central Bank 75 and still growing

Central Bank-Granite City will celebrate its 75th birthday Dec. 10. The multi-bank holding company known as the Central Banc System was, until a year ago, known as the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Two years prior to the name change, the shareholders organized a bank holding company in order to utilize new laws which allowed banking institutions to acquire other banks and to expand services.

While the name of the bank is new and some of its recently acquired banks in the Metro East area are also new, the philosophy and the family that have guided Central Bank through a successful 75 years are still the same, a spokesman said.

Henry D. Karandjeff, who recently celebrated his 92nd birthday, is honorary chairman of the board. Ernest A. Karandjeff is chairman of the board, and Drew Karandjeff is president and trust officer.

The spokesman said, "It is that sense of continuity and family that helps to set the Central Banc System apart from other financial institutions in the area. It has also helped the banking system grow to more than $250,000,000, including affiliates, in total deposits."

"We are a family bank that has grown with Granite City," says Ernest Karandjeff, speaking of the past 75 years. "This has resulted in a great commitment on our part to Granite City and to the Metro East region."

The past two years have seen the Central Bank holding company more than double its banks in this area. The company acquired the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Carlinville in June 1984, the First Bank of Marine in January 1984, and the Southern Illinois Bank in Fairview Heights in January 1985.

The office for the Marine bank was moved this year to a new building on Route 159 in Glen Carbon, while a banking facility remains in Marine.

"Right now," Ernest Karandjeff said, "we are absorbing the growth and changes that have taken place recently."

"While there has been an incredible amount of growth, that has not affected the Central Banc System's commitment to better service and more personal service."

"If anything, it has allowed that basic philosophy to be offered to depositors in a broader geographical and financial pattern. We are responding to the needs of a diverse population. Each town where we have a bank is different."

"Responding to the diverse population needs includes providing automatic Total Teller facilities, the Five Star Club for people over 60 years of age, trust and estate planning, and a full range of financial services tailored to the needs of each depositor."

The credibility and the reputation of the bank throughout the years have spawned a strong system of referrals," Karandjeff said. "Those referrals include industrial workers, young families, farmers, senior citizens, and large industries. Our employees are always available to give 'one on one' service and advice to our customers."

Central Banc System's flagship bank in Granite City is also its largest, with total deposits of over $95,000,000. It is the sixth largest bank in Madison County.

The commitment to Granite City has also meant, over the years, a steady involvement in civic affairs. Henry, Ernest and Drew have all, at various times, been president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. Drew Karandjeff has served on the board of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association and is a member of the Southwest Illinois Leadership Council.

Central Bank reaches out to the community in many ways. Examples include sponsorship of "Home Show '85" in Granite City, displays of original works of art by local artists in the bank lobby, hosting a meeting of the Madison County Bar Association and, recently, donating an IBM System 3 computer to the Belleville Area College Foundation.

The future? Ernest Karandjeff sees a strong fourth quarter for the Central Banc System.

Of the economy in general, he says, "Inflation has been controlled. The growth of business and industry has been steady — not a big flash. And there should be continued growth in '86, although it will not be a rapid growth."

"Solid growth, commitment to the community, and personal service are all phrases that describe the Central Banc System now and for the past 75 years. We are going to continue to do what we do best — and that is be bankers."

Auto parts suppliers being surveyed

About 2,000 Illinois auto suppliers and another 16,000 across the country and in other nations are being surveyed by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs to help Diamond-Star find vendors for the auto assembly plant being built at Bloomington-Normal.

"When Mitsubishi and Chrysler officials selected Illinois as the site of their new Diamond-Star facility, the decision was based in part on DCCA's commitment to help assure the plant's success in a number of critical ways," DCCA Director Michael T. Woelfer said.

"This mail survey will help the company identify suppliers ready, willing and able to do business with Diamond-Star," Woelfer said. "Because we want existing Illinois firms to be first in line on this project, the mailing to them is going out now."

The other 16,000 surveys, including a total of nearly 700 aimed at Canadian and Japanese suppliers, will be mailed before the end of the year. The survey is accompanied by a letter from Gov. James R. Thompson and asks for basic information on each firm. It also offers help from DCCA in training, marketing and financial assistance.

"The governor's letter says, in part, 'With our central location and proximity to other auto assembly facilities, such as General Motors in Indiana, Ford-Mazda in Michigan, Nissan and Saturn in Tennessee and Honda in Ohio, I believe it would be worthwhile for you to take a few minutes to complete the survey.' Woelfer said any firm that doesn't receive a survey by mail should contact DCCA."

"Once we have all the information back," Woelfer said, "Possibilities include workshops for suppliers, a mini 'auto fair' at which companies can meet directly with community leaders, and meetings at which suppliers deal directly with DCCA personnel."

Further, the list of companies that make specific products will be useful in luring any other prospective automakers, Woelfer said.

Warriors (7-0) give Jerseyville whipping

By GREGG OCHOA
Executive Sports Editor

JERSEYVILLE — Quite simply, it was an old-fashioned country whuppin'.

Granite City took Jerseyville out back to the wood shed and blasted the Panthers 63-3 in a dual wrestling meet Friday night.

So dominate were the Warriors that they won 10 of the 12 bouts by a pin. And in most cases the fall came early. The resounding thud of the referee's hand slapping against the mat was a familiar sound. For, Jerseyville it was another nail in the coffin.

"I was afraid that might happen," said Granite City Coach Walt Whitaker. "I was hoping it wouldn't be a blow out, but once our kids started they just kept on rolling."

In the match's two bouts that went the entire six minutes, 119-pounder Gary Mann was a 10-3 winner. At 105, Rich Smallie dropped a 10-9 decision.

The Warriors upped their winning streak to seven and handed the Panthers their fourth loss. Jerseyville is 1-4.

The Panthers knew coming in, things would be tough. Earlier in the season Roxana pounded Jerseyville. One the Panthers managers, after seeing the Warriors record, feared the worst.

"Roxana beat us in 40 minutes," she said. "I hope that doesn't happen again."

183-Chris Greer (GC) pinned John Ayers 2:13
HWT-Ross Karbarski (GC) pinned Monty Gardner 1:19

It didn't. But then again it only took the Warriors about an hour to wrap-up the match.

"A match like this is really tough to evaluate ourselves," Whitaker said. "Still, I thought some of the younger kids wrestled well."

The Warriors had little trouble overall. Of the 10 pins, five came in the first period. Heavyweight Ross Karbarski got the quick pin award in his match with Monty Gardner. It took the sophomore just 19 seconds to earn the fall.

"During the match some of the guys wanted to know what the record was. They said they were going to try for it," Whitaker said.

Stars' defense key to victory

Continuing their balanced scoring attack, the Granite City Campus basketball team upped its record to 4-2 with an 86-69 win over the Washington University junior varsity team Thursday.

Jeff Gray, a freshman guard from Granite City, paced the Stars with 18 points on 9-for-15 shooting from the field.

"The game was a significant improvement for us on defense," said Stars' Coach Terry Collins. "We were only up by two points (37-35) at the half, but our defense keyed us in the first eight or ten minutes of the second half and we went up by 15."

Collins credited the defensive work of guards Delyod Williams of Madison and Reggie Mullens for igniting the Stars in the second half.

"Our forwards also did some excellent defensive work," he said. The Stars continue to put the points on the board, averaging 83 points per game through the first six contests.

"We know we will score points and rebound," Collins said. "We need to keep that strong defense going to do well."

Dana Christell (17 points), Mullens (12) and Perry Jones (10) were also in double figures for Granite City.

The Stars played yesterday on the road at St. Louis. Tomorrow, the Stars will play at home Monday night against Belleville Area College. The tipoff is at 7:30 p.m.

ZIPS AT HALFTIME
As special entertainment at halftime of Monday's game, the St. Louis Zips, a troupe of youngsters who perform acrobatic maneuvers on the basketball court, will be on hand.

The Zips are known nationwide for their stunts, including using a trampoline to spring up to the basket for spectacular slam dunks.

The GOC-BAC game will also be preceded by a game between State Community College of East St. Louis and Kaskaskia. The tipoff for that first game is 5:30 p.m.

Hawkeyes top SIU grapplers

In a matchup between national champions in Division I and Division II wrestling, the Iowa Hawkeyes triumphed over the SIU Edwardsville Cougars Thursday night.

Iowa outpointed the Cougars, 30-23, before nearly 1,000 wrestling fanatics at the Vandalia Center. The Hawkeyes, coached by former Olympic gold medalist Dan Gable, have won eight consecutive NCAA Division I championships and 10 of the last 11 titles.

Larry Kristoff's Cougars, meanwhile, are two-time defending NCAA Division II champs.

The Cougars opened the meet by winning the first three bouts and jumping to an 18-0 lead, but Iowa came back, winning five of the final seven fights to take the match.

Tim Wright of SIUE defeated Iowa's Steve Knight in the 118-pound battle, 19-4. The Cougars' Alan Grammer then topped Dan Gable, 18-3, in the 136-pound class. SIUE's Steve Stearns won a forfeit match in the 134-pound class to give the Cougars the early, commanding lead.

But the Hawkeyes, with seven wrestlers ranked among the top four nationally in their respective weight classes, rallied. Kevin Dresser pinned the Cougars' Brian McTaggart in 3:34 in the 142-pound bout. Jim Hefernan, the No. 1-ranked 150-pound wrestler in the country, followed with an 18-3 win over Rob Clarkston, and the Hawkeyes continued on to victory.

SIUE's Mark Kristoff, of Bethalto, did get a victory for the Cougars, outlasting Iowa's Royce Alger, 9-7, in the 158-pound match.

The Cougars competed in the Illinois Invitational Tournament in Champaign this weekend. Their next meet at home is Saturday against Northwest Missouri State.

Mike Suess of Granite City was recently named the Illinois Collegiate Bowler of the Year.

Suess, a student at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College, will be honored later in a ceremony at the Bowling Hall of Fame in St. Louis.

Suess' average this year was in the 220s. He resides at 2304 Arnold Drive.

Wrestling

at Granite City is nine seconds, Whitaker said.

Besides Karbarski, Chuck Sparks (138) and Mike Fenoglio (163) pinned their opponents in under a minute.

To Jerseyville's credit, the Panthers were under-manned and inexperienced. Nine sophomores started the match. In addition, the Panthers' top senior, Erik Simon (a regional champion at heavyweight last year), didn't come out for the team.

"With all those sophomores it was almost like boys going out there against men," said Jerseyville coach Pat Claywell.

"Our kids are still learning," Claywell said. "Hopefully, we will have a lot of them back in the next two years if they all don't bunch up in the same weight class." From 98 to 132 pounds, Jerseyville wrestles all sophomores.

Claywell was disappointed in the 155-pound bout. Undeclared Rob Lahey was pinned by Paul Brandt in 5:25.

"I really thought he had a chance because he had been wrestling well," Claywell said.

The 155-pound slot is normally held down by senior Tom Sparks. However, Sparks' left ankle is broken. He will be in a cast for four to six weeks.

Sparks, a past state qualifier, suffered the injury last weekend as he attempted to throw his opponent to the mat.

Dressed in sweats and wearing a hat saying "Warrior Wrestling," all Sparks could do was watch. He watched his younger brother, Chuck, maul Harvey Band and register a pin in :48 seconds. And he, watched the rest of his teammates.

Whitaker is hopeful that with recovery, Sparks truly be able to wrestle again when the post-season nears.

In the only match the Warriors dropped, Smallie was edged by Tony Hillis at 105 pounds. Smallie took a 7-2 lead after the first period after putting the Jerseyville wrestler on his back. Hillis scored the only two points of the second period with a reversal. He outscored a tiring Smallie 6-2 in the third period.

Smallie got his two points near the end of the match, scoring a reversal and taking control.

"I actually thought we had that match won," Whitaker said. "I thought after he reversed him, (Smallie) got back points, too."

As it turned out, the outcome didn't alter the overall decision.

Despite the 7-0 start, Whitaker knows his team has its work cut out.

"It's nice to have all the wins but we can't get too over confident. I hope we keep our heads on straight."

The Warriors wrestle against East St. Louis next Friday and participate in the House Springs (Mo.) Quad on Saturday, Dec. 21.
